White Asked For Quick Decision

Despite his insistence that any delay would work a hardship, Sidney P. White's application for permission to install a six-inch sewer line in Andover st. was put off by the Board of Selectmen Monday night, for at least a week.

White, a town official for many years, plans to install a dairy bar, milk processing plant and a model barn in the industrial area on Andover st., just past the railroad underpass.

He told the Selectmen that he needed the Board's decision before the weekend, when he planned to confer with builders. But three

$3,000 Saving On Purchase Of Salt

Taxpayers will save about $3,000 in municipal expense this year, according to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, in the purchase of salt for the winter.

He told the Selectmen Monday night that a low bid of $12 a ton has been accepted - comparing with the low price of $22.50 a ton last year. This, he explained, will mean a saving of about $3,000 for the full year's supply of salt. One-hundred tons will be stored at the town yard in a shed that was re-

SOPHOMORE OPEN HOUSE AT HIGH SCHOOL

A sophomore Open House will be held at the High School Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, from 7:30-9 o'clock.

Parents of the sophomore are specially invited to attend. A brief program will be held in the auditorium at 7:30.

Andover residents can have what amounts to a ring-side seat for the total eclipse of the sun tomorrow morning.

Early-rising observers may see the eclipse from Holt Hill at the Ward reservation, on the invitation of John Kimball.

The hill is high enough to give an unrestricted view of the coastline if the weather is clear. The eclipse will take place at such an early time after the sun rises that

The state has agreed to include an access road for McKenney cir. in its over-all Route 110 plans.

A promise that the road will be designed, and become part of the highway construction program, was contained in a letter to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff from the state's chief engineer, E. J. McCarthy.

The original plans indicated that no access would be provided, thus depriving residents of any road into Andover from their residential area.

The second of the town's requests - for a bridge at High Plain rd. - is being studied by the department, but no particular hope is being held out for its inclusion in the design. The engineering department merely expressed an interest in the problem and promised to re-study the proposed dead-ending of this local road at its junction with the new highway.

The state has also refused the town's request for a public hearing on the Route 110 plans. Mr. McCarthy said a public hearing, as required by law, was held in Lowell July 15, 1958 and another would not be held. But he agreed to meet with local officials in the Boston office whenever it might be convenient.

This is the DPW's map of Route 93, showing its path through the communities north of Boston to the New Hampshire line. The section south from Dascomb rd. is the one that now appears to possibly be the bottleneck, although the contractor may finish it well ahead of his August, 1960 deadline. This section, and the approaches to the bridge over the Merrimack, are the only two on which extensive work must be done before the highway is usable as far as Route 128. The sections closer to Boston are, of course, in various early stages of construction and will not be finished for some time.

Averages up to 30 miles per gallon. Experience Run, U.S.A., proved it! Oil savings? Ford's standard Full-Flow Oil Filter stretched oil changes 4,000 miles apart.

The engine's up front for greater safety and stability. Built brand-new for the Falcon, the short-stroke Falcon Six was developed, and mounted up front, according to long-proved, thoroughly accepted engineering principles.

Timetable Of Eclipse

The eclipse will be seen as a total eclipse in a narrow belt extending from Newburyport to Quincy and Worcester. Other areas will see the eclipse as a partial one.

Thus the Holt Hill location is ideal, because it will give local observers a view of the total eclipse, whereas others in this vicinity probably will see only a partial one.

The eclipse begins before the sun actually rises, starting at 5:49 a.m.

The sun rises, nearly totally eclipsed, at 6:41.

Totality begins at 6:49:51 and mid-totality is at 6:50:13. Totality ends at 6:50:35 and the eclipse ends at 7:51.

The last total solar eclipse occurred in New England Aug. 31, 1942. Prior to that, the last total eclipse was Jan. 24, 1925. In both cases, the sun was seen as 99 percent eclipsed at Boston. The former was seen as totally eclipsed only in the northeastern corner of the state and Cape Cod. The latter was seen as totally eclipsed in the southwest corner of the state.

Need Full-Time Man At Dump

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff is seeking a full-time attendant for the town dump.

The person, he indicated, would be paid to keep dumping practices under control, by directing those using the facility where to put their refuse.

Duff said the dump reverted to old practices last weekend, with townspeople dumping materials at various locations. He felt that if someone is in attendance at the town area, it can be kept in reasonably good shape, with equipment being used as often as needed to keep it in an orderly manner.

At the Selectmen's meeting Monday, one of the Selectmen told his colleagues he happened to be driving through Lowell recently and quite by accident followed a heavily-laden disposal truck straight to the Andover dump. There were also stories at the meeting about other out-of-town concerns using the municipal area for dumping, against the town's ruling.

An attendant, Mr. Duff feels, would be able to control this abuse of the town's facility.

School Population Grows Steadily, 3,360 Enrolled

True to predictions prior to the opening of school, the anticipated enrollment was somewhat less than the actual number of pupils as of Sept. 15.

At that time, just five school days after opening, there were 3,360 youngsters attending public schools. The predicted number was 3,346.

A compilation of enrollments by grades and schools was presented to the School Committee at its meeting Sept. 22.

There were 535 pupils at Central School, 102 at Stowe and 33 in Jackson, accounting for 670 youngsters in the center of town. Shawsheen School has 364 students, and West School has 459. South School has an enrollment of 514.

A total of 782 students attend the Junior High, while 571 are in attendance at the High School.

A picture of what is in store for the town, particularly in the High School, during the next few years, is gained from an inspection of the enrollment by grades:

High school seniors, 166; juniors, 214; sophomores, 190.

Grade nine, 227; grade eight, 255; grade seven, 283.

Sixth grade, 282; fifth, 237; fourth, 264; third, 298; second, 302; first, 312; and kindergarten, 279.

SEEKING DONORS FOR BLOODMOBILE

On Friday Junior Red Cross students of the High School distributed flyers about the blood program. Geraldine Pelletier, Barbara Johnson, Sherry Hartford, Allan May, Andrew Blake, Karen Hutchinson, Emily Yorshis, Alice O'Connor and Pat Coffman gave out the circulars on Main st. and in parking areas and shopping centers. Junior High School students Nancy Black, Betsy Poynter, Nancy Poynter, and Debbie Cole folded and prepared the flyers. Now the Boosters Club is finishing the task of passing them out.

David Cutler, blood program chairman, reports that the chapter is now being asked to supply on the average of one to five pints of blood a day for hospitalized Andover residents. The blood is, of course, free of charge to anyone and his immediate family who has donated blood through the Red Cross within the year. Mr. Cutler also commented that a large proportion of the donations of money to the Red Cross through the United Fund goes to collect, process, store, and deliver blood.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Watching The Costs

In these days of rising costs, leading to increased taxes, it's wholesome to see municipal government save a few dollars whenever possible.

Thus our congratulations go to Town Manager Thomas E. Duff, whose cost-conscious handling of the salt supply for winter-time use has resulted in an estimated saving of $3,000 over last year.

He told the Selectmen Monday that the salt will be purchased for $12 a ton, compared with $22.60 a ton a year ago.

The improved price results mainly from creating a storage shed at the town yard so that the salt can be purchased in bulk, rather than by the bag. About 100 tons will be stored in anticipation of the winter needs, and additional supplies will be purchased at the $12 figure later in the winter. The normal supply for a complete year is in excess of 200 tons, he indicated.

We noticed this week, for further comparison, that Lawrence awarded its salt contract for over $18 per ton — indicating the good price received by the town.

It's refreshing, indeed, to see savings accomplished in this day and age of increases piled on top of increases, and a disregard for careful purchasing that appears evident in some parts of state and county government outside the boundaries of this community.

Is A Life Worth Saving?

Is your child's life worth saving?

That's a question the Essex County Fire Chief's Association thinks demands an answer, even though the reply should be quite obvious.

Because obviously there are some parents whose consideration for their children's lives doesn't extend quite far enough. They are the men and women who carelessly leave cigarettes or other materials burning when they go to bed. And as a result, many lives are lost each year.

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton brought the point home this week, pointing out that at least a third of the local fires causing damage to the homes result from careless disposal of smoking materials.

Although Andover is lucky in not experiencing any fatalities as a result of these fires, Chief Hilton points out that this cause of fires is potentially the most dangerous to the families involved. Usually, the fires break out on the ground floor or in the basement, he explained, after the family has retired for the night. Then, often, they are trapped on the second floor after the flames have had ample opportunity to spread.

While careless disposal and careless smoking cause the most fires that result in children's deaths, Hilton said defective wiring is the second major cause and defective heating apparatus ranks in the list of fire causes.

With the coming of Fire Prevention Week, Chief Hilton stressed the need for every person to be constantly aware of these causes of fire, and to take every precaution against becoming a victim of their own carelessness.

S. H. Davis of Boston, president of the Anti Saloon League, will speak at the Free Church Sunday night.

The local fire department held its monthly practice last Wednesday evening. Hosemen met on Morton st. and the laddermen practiced at the Punchard School.

A horse owned by John Collins ran away last Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock. The steed ran up Main st., down Locke st., along Central st. and didn't stop until he had reached the Pacific mills in Lawrence.

The annual meeting of the Andover Club will be held in the clubrooms Wednesday, Harry M. Eames is the president. Other officers include Burton S. Flagg, vice president; Frederic G. Moore, treasurer; and Hilliard F. Holt, secretary.

25 Years Ago — October, 1934

Action on the zoning by-laws was deferred until the annual town meeting of 1935 by the voters at a special town meeting Monday evening. The action was a surprise, and the vote was taken while the voters were actually engaged in voting on the motion to adopt the by-laws. Introduction of an amendment gave one voter a chance to move for postponement, which was adopted by voice vote. Some $20,653 was voted under several small articles.

The School Committee is studying a plan to establish a category of "trial" teachers — to be paid less than the regular teachers and to be closely supervised. Present rules require any applicant to have two or more years of experience before being considered for a job here. The "trial" category would allow hiring of teachers without experience.

Candidates for the General Court will speak at the League of Women Voters luncheon Oct. 15 at the Wildwood Inn.

Andover should envision the eventual replacement of all its elementary schools now in use except Shawsheen School, according to recommendations received from consultants retained by the School Committee to study the problem. The advisory group also recommended closing the auditorium in the Indian Ridge School and in the Stowe School.

The Boosters report progress in their plans to raise a total of $3,000 to buy about 100 new uniforms for members of the All-Girl Band.

The Recreation Committee is planning a big, community-wide Halloween party at the Memorial Gymnasium for all youngsters of the town. It's the first time a party of this magnitude has been planned. There will be entertainment and refreshments for all.

Andover Program At $3 Million

Gifts to the Andover Program now total $3,000,000, it was announced by Donald H. McLean Jr., 28, of Summit, N. J., general chairman of the Phillips Academy $6,060,000 development program.

Mr. McLean addressed a luncheon group of more than 150 Andover alumni and parents, representing campaign committees from all parts of the country. They met on campus for a series of weekend conferences as final preparation for an intensive drive to complete the objectives of The Andover Program.

"We have made an excellent beginning," said Mr. McLean, "but we still have a long way to go. These next three months are critically important to the success of the campaign. I have every confidence, however, that loyal Andover alumni and parents everywhere will respond to this, the greatest challenge in the school's history, and that we will reach our six-million-dollar goal."

The Andover Program leaders in Andover are B. Allen Rowland and Dean K. Webster III.

During the weekend, committee members visited all parts of the school, discussed in detail all objectives of The Andover Program, and determined final campaign plans. They also listened to talks by Headmaster John M. Kemper; R. L. Ireland III '38 of New York, chairman of the National Alumni Campaign; and Owen J. Brown, chairman of the Boston Parents' Committee.

At a dinner Saturday evening, the group was addressed by the Rt. Rev. Henry W. Hobson '10, president of the Board of Trustees, and guest speaker Frank H. Bowles, president of The College Entrance Examination Board.

As part of the comprehensive Andover Program, two new student dormitories have been completed and a third is under construction. Last week, ground was broken for another new building, the $125,000 James S. Copley Wing of the school's Oliver Wendell Holmes Library.

Other major items in the Program include a new $1,150,000 science building, an arts center, two more student dormitories, and the remodeling of several older buildings.

Decision Reserved In Court Case

Decision was reserved by Judge Edward A. Peece in Superior civil court last week after completion of the trial of a suit by Mrs. Mary B. Rhodes, 9 Ferndale ave., against the Town of Andover to recover damages for injuries received in a fall on the roadway near her home. Judge Peece allowed counsel two weeks to file briefs. The case was heard at a jury-waived trial.

The plaintiff alleges the accident was due to the defective condition of the roadway. She testified that at about 7 a.m. Sept. 10, 1958, she was crossing the street on the way to the home of her daughter when she fell in a hole in the roadway, receiving injuries to her elbow, spine, back and both ankles. She said the hole had been there four or five months and that she had notified the Andover Public Works department of the condition.

Mrs. Rhodes testified it had been raining the day of the accident and that the hole in the roadway was covered with water when she stepped into it.

Mrs. Rhodes alleges the town neglected to keep the highway in a safe condition and that it was in a defective and dangerous condition. She seeks damages of $4,000.

The Town of Andover alleges Mrs. Rhodes was not in the exercise of due care and that the injuries she claims were due to contributory negligence.

Earl F. Powers, employee of the Public Works Dept. of the town, testified he placed a patch in two holes on Ferndale ave. in front of Mrs. Rhodes' home in September, 1958. He said he didn't know the exact date he made the repairs.

Stanley Chlebowski, superintendent of the street department for the town, testified that as a result of a complaint he had seen which was made to the Andover police in September, 1958, he sent Mr. Powers to make repairs in the roadway. He said he believed it was the afternoon of Sept. 10 when he saw the complaint. He said he had never received any request from anyone to patch the road, except from the police department.

Mrs. Rhodes was represented by Atty. Burton Shaker and Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien appeared for the town.

ELECTED TO REPRESENT SCOUTS

Mrs. Richard Anderson of Apple-tree Ln., has been elected as chairman of the Andover Girl Scout Neighborhood Association. As chairman of the neighborhood group, Mrs. Anderson will be present the Andover Girl Scouts on the board of directors of the Girl Scout Council of Greater Lawrence and will be responsible for the over-all program of Girl Scouting in Andover.

Mrs. Anderson has been connected with the Girl Scout organization for many years. As a girl she was a member of Troops 14 and 6. As an adult she has served as a troop committee member and as a leader of both Brownie and Intermediate troops. She has been active in the Andover Neighborhood group since it was formed four years ago.

At The Library

Coming Events: OCTOBER

- 1 First grade party, 3:45 p.m.
- 6 Great Books Discussion Group opens fall series, 7:45 p.m.
- 7 First meeting for Littlest Listeners who will later enter Central Elementary first grade, 10 a.m.
- 19 Next meeting of the Andover Civil War Roundtable, 7:45 p.m.

Party For First Graders

The last of the three parties for the children entering first grade this year will be held at the Memorial Hall Library on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 1, at 3:45 o'clock. Children who are invited to attend this party are those who attend Shawsheen Elementary, West Elementary, Marland or Pike Schools. Any child unable to be present at either of the previous groups, is welcome.

Mothers are asked to bring the little people to the library so that the program may begin at 3:45 o'clock. Those boys and girls who can write or print both first and last names may sign library cards at this time. There will be an opportunity for the children and parents to see the room, learn about the hours when the room is open, the location of books available for this age group. Miss Lane plans to tell a story or two. Light refreshments will be served.

Great Books

At the opening meeting of the eighth year of the Great Books Discussion Group the discussion will be based on two plays, Sophocles, "Electra" and "Aias." New members are particularly welcome at this meeting, but enter at any time. All book-lovers are reminded that attendance at Great Books group does not require previous membership in the group. The discussions are based on the current reading and challenge the reader on its merits.

Andover's group has had changing attendance, with a few of the charter members still attending. Its meetings are held in the Memorial Hall Library every other Tuesday at 7:45 o'clock, or recess during the summer months.

Littlest Listeners

The pre-school program, Littlest Listeners, will open this month at the Memorial Hall and in the Ballardvale branch library. Because there is an increase in the five to five year old population, there will be three first day meetings. All children who will enter first grade in the Central Elementary School when they come of age are invited to the library on Wednesday morning, Oct. 7, at 10 o'clock. Ballardvale children who live near the branch library are invited to join there. The first meeting on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 10 a.m. in the Ballardvale room. Children who will enter any school other than Central Elementary school who wish to join one of the Andover groups are invited to the Memorial Hall Library for the first meeting on Wednesday morning, Oct. 14, at 10 a.m.

By grouping the children in this way, mothers often find neighbors who can share with them the transportation of children to the library. Each group is distinguished by a group name, usually that of a bird that is known to children.

Mothers who wish to have more information about Littlest Listeners are invited to call the library. Otherwise, attendance at the first meeting is all that is required to enter the child. Experience in the past has proven that this pre-school training has done much toward giving a child some new in social behavior and participation.

TOWN EMPLOYEES TO MEET TUESDAY

The Town Employees will meet for the annual fall session next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Legion Hall on Park st. A speaker from the state Civil Service division will be present, according to President Albert Cole Jr.

ANDOVER COUNCIL OF CHURCHES WILL MEET

The fall meeting of the Andover Council of Churches will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4, at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

WHITE WANTED QUICK DECISION.

members of the Board, in the absence of the other two, said they would not act.

Mr. White, who explained he has been seeking a decision since early in June, asserted he had received the verbal approval of the two absent members, and appealed to the majority present to move forward.

Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr., with Secretary William Stewart and James D. Wilson, agreed, however, to wait for their colleagues before taking any positive action. Bernardin recalled that the Board has an established policy of not making important decisions unless all members have a chance to take part in the discussion.

White suggested the members approve his request, with the proviso that, if the other two objected later, the decision would not be binding.

Selectman Stewart stated: "I want them to convey their thoughts to us directly" and strongly objected to accepting anyone's presentation of members' opinions.

Maintenance In Question
The major question before the Board is the future maintenance of the sewer line. Town counsel has ruled that the pipe, once installed, must be the responsibility of the town, but he also suggested it might be possible to draw a contract relating to private maintenance that would be binding.

However, the town could not refuse to allow any future resident to tie into the main, it was stated.

The six-inch pipe would be tied onto a 15-inch main that ends about at the underpass. White would pay for the entire installation. He also agreed Monday night that he would pay all maintenance costs in the future, providing no one else tied into the main.

He said the wash water from the processing plant, sanitary facilities, and the barn would be emptied into the line. He had first requested permission from the state to empty the wash water into a brook on the land, but was refused.

The former selectman said he had been told by the town, during the early stages of the discussion, that he would have to construct an 18-inch sewer line — the size of pipe recommended for a trunk main in the area, according to an engineering survey. This would have cost over $33,500, he stated, "and my blood pressure went up when I heard it", he continued. White said he has no interest in paying for a sewer trunk line that will some day service a development.

The Board members present indicated their satisfaction with the six-inch pipe size, but were concerned about the maintenance problem.

White, in several times calling for an immediate decision, he could not delay taking a vote for long. He must vacate the Rose Farm location next year, said he needs to have foundation poured this fall if the new are to be ready in time for the move.

White estimated he would make an investment of over $100,000 in the new plant, if he is allowed to build — a decision which rests entirely on the sewer answer from the Selectmen.

Does Yesteryear's Policy Cover Today's Home?

The upward spiral in the cost of things and services underlines the serious fact that many homes today are dangerously under-insured.

INDUSTRIAL DISCUSSION COMING MONDAY NIGHT

The Selectmen will meet with the Industrial and Development Commission, and the Planning Board, next Monday night to talk about establishing a municipal "action" committee.

Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. said there had been generally good response to the idea that such a committee be formed. Basically, it would be set up to meet with interested businessmen or industrialists, answer their questions and provide answers to mutual problems within a short period of time. This, it was suggested, would avoid the considerable delay caused when an individual has to appear before several boards, on numerous occasions, then wait for independent answers from them.

Ask Cooperation Of Truckers

All gravel truck operators using local streets will be asked to cooperate in preventing spillage, according to a decision of the Selectmen.

This step was taken instead of requiring all trucks to be covered, although this possibility is being retained in case truck operators do not, themselves, prevent much of the spillage along residential streets.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff suggested that the request be made, after relating the substance of discussions he has had with various operators.

He said they do not feel that covering the trucks is the answer, but themselves suggested that each driver take some responsibility for the loads. Inspecting them prior to leaving a gravel pit, and leveling off the load some, would account for most of the spillage now experienced in many sections of town. It was also suggested that the drivers might drop off any boulders that could become dislodged later. Several persons, including some of the Selectmen, have recently observed rocks dropping off trucks and rolling for considerable distances before coming to a rest. These are potentially very dangerous to motorists, it has been pointed out, who are driving behind or near the truck.

Disaster Chairman Douglas Howe also reports that the Red Cross headquarters on Punchard ave. is equipped with an emergency generator, and has 12 beds and a kitchen, making it useful as a center for any residents driven from their homes by storms or other disasters.

The safety tips are:

1. Follow weather reports closely.
2. Store garden furniture, tools, awnings, and similar objects in a safe place. They could be lethal weapons during a storm.
3. Put storm shutters in place.
4. If you are told to evacuate, don't delay. A minute could save your life.
5. Don't go outside during the storm. Stay indoors, preferably in a brick or concrete building.
6. Stay away from windows.
7. If the center or "eye" of the storm passes directly overhead, there will be a lull, lasting as long as 30 minutes. Stay where you are during this calm. The wind will return from the opposite direction, with perhaps greater force.

8. Fill bathtub, bottles and cooking utensils with water. Keep extra food, which does not require cooking, handy. Be sure to have a flashlight and candles to use in case of power failure.

9. Don't touch fallen wires. Report them to police or power company.
